Nerses and Sevan Balabanian were born and raised in Aleppo, Syria and moved to the United States in 2005. Since the outbreak of the civil war in Syria in 2011, Nerses and Sevan have kept close contact with their friends and family in Syria. In 2014, 2015 and 2016 they went back to the Middle East to support refugees and encourage the local people in their struggles. They are dedicated to being the unheard voices of their people by giving presentations in the Bay Area and elsewhere.
