Art and Spirit

"Open the Door" is an exhibit created by inmates at the Santa Clara County Correctional Facilities. This exhibit affirms how art enables incarcerated men and women to tap into their humanity, their spirit and their gifts. Recognizing the dignity of their humanity, and the commonalities we share, is essential for the incarcerated. Each piece has been created in community by a diverse group of inmates. The art and writing show there is more to them than criminal charges. Their work exhibits introspection, spirituality, promise and hope.
